THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1866.

Mr. Coffroth has introduced into the House of Representatives at Washington, a resolution for the appointment of Commissioners, to ascertain what damages were sustained by the citizens of the Sixteenth congressional district of Pennsylvania by the various rebel invasions of the district, with a view to legislation for the payment of such damages. The people of Pennsylvania have an unpleasant recollection of a similar application to the Legislature last winter, for the relief of the Chambersburg sufferers. Men who repudiated all thought of participating in the bounty of the State, not only did present bills to the Commissioners for the full amount of their losses, but induced their fellow sufferers to pay them twenty thousand dollars for alleged services in procuring the passage of the Relief Bill. The affair is absolutely scandalous, but is precisely what the public ought to have expected from the reputations of the men prominently concerned in it. Before any more money shall be voted, the people demand guarantees that common swindlers do not have an opportunity to "toll the grist."

We have heretofore remarked that the professedly conservative journals exceed in violence and coarseness all other sorts of newspapers in the United States. Take a specimen, in illustration:

> "It is understood that Mrs. Lincoln is about to purchase a residence in Chicago for the sum of $14,000, and that Robert Lincoln is about to be admitted to the bar, and to enter upon the practice of his profession in that city."
>
> [The question is, where did Mrs. Lincoln procure money sufficient to pay such a price for a residence in Chicago. When her coarse joking and vulgar old rail-splitting husband left Springfield for Washington, he had barely funds enough of his own to defray his expenses there.]—Pontiac Jacksonian.

A New Game.—A Southern paper thus refers to a new game in use in the South. We have not seen it in the North:

> A new and interesting game for young people has lately been invented, and entitled "Grant's Line." The configuration of the board is something like that of a fox-and-geese-board doubled, but the addition of circles of diagonal and straight lines gives complexity to the movements. Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, City Point, Petersburg, Burksville, and Five Forks, are strategic points on the board. The object is to corner the single piece, Lee, which has the power of moving in a circle, diagonally and direct, and the game is so constructed that it can only be done in flank movements, the preservation of an unbroken front upon the main lines with the reserve in supporting distance. It is said that the game is not less intricate than chess, requiring as high powers, analyzation and combination, and may be made equally as interesting.

Heroic.—The St. Hyacinthe (C. W.) Courier of May 28th has the following:

> As a train of the Grand Trunk was passing through this locality during the night, a young gentleman, Mr. Bachand, noticed that a house was on fire, while the people seemed not to have wakened up. He urged the conductor to stop the train, or at least to slacken it, but met with refusal. The courageous young man leaped, however, from the cars, broke his leg, and yet crept to the burning house, which was that of Mr. Urgele Desmarais, merchant. The family were all asleep, as Mr. Bachand had supposed, and he roused them in time to save their lives, with one exception, that of a young lady twenty-two years old, a niece of Mr. Desmarais.

A wool test is shortly to take place at Springfield, Illinois. The Secretary of the State Agricultural Society is in receipt of fleeces from various parts of the State, preparatory to the test of scouring them for the purpose of ascertaining the exact amount of clean wool in each, and awarding premiums thereon. It promises to be an interesting affair to both growers and manufacturers. All fleeces should be in the hands of the Secretary by the 1st of July, as the committee who are to superintend the scouring will be called together very soon thereafter.

General Sherman on Politicians.—On a recent visit to the Northwest, General Sherman made a pleasant little speech at the town of Minneapolis, and was about to retire when the customary cries of "go on," arrested him. In response to the invitation to continue, the General added—"I have studied politicians, and have learned, by imitating them, to talk a few minutes without saying anything at all." General Sherman, it appears, has, like the rest of the world, found out one of the little tricks of professional politicians.

The Lancaster (O.) Eagle reports that localities in Fairfield county are much infested by Norway rats. Entire fields of corn have been destroyed by them, and in other instances acres were taken in a single night. Gardens suffer in like manner. They even attack and kill pigs, chickens, other fowls and small animals. Many farms are said to be swarming with them. As many as five hundred have been killed on a single farm in one day, by the usual force on a farm.

A Sensible Young Prince.—It is stated that Prince Humbert, son of Victor Emanuel, was recently offered the command of a corps of the Italian army, and declined it. "If I command a corps," he said, "and am defeated, people will say this comes of giving important commands to inexperienced Princes. If I am victorious, my chief of the staff will get all the credit. I prefer commanding a division, and doing what I am ordered."

There is a new bonnet on the horizon. It is made of a large full blown rose, which lies flat on the top of the head, sewn on a scarf of dew-bedropped mile which is crossed under the chin where another small rose peeps forth. The whole is called "chapeau paff." In less than three weeks it will be in struggling rivalry with the "Lamballe."

New Haven has 1000 children for whom there is no room in the public schools.

The Blood.

Pure air, exercise, and good nourishing food, have more to do with health and its continuance, and the regaining of it when lost, than all the medical substances in the universe. Indeed, without them health will be lost, and almost impossible to be restored. It is always in some violation of the natural laws that regulate health that it is impaired or lost. By some obstruction of the bowels, or the skin, or the vitiated matter passing into the blood, it supplies improper material to the waste that is going on continually in the animal economy. Scrofula, Cancer, Tetter, all sorts of Eruptive Diseases, have their origin in a sluggish or lazy condition of the absorbent glands and other emunctories of the body. To restore tone to these is the purpose of that great medicine known as Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher. It acts by restoring tone to the stomach and enabling it to properly digest the food which is intended to go to the supply and nourishment of the system. It stimulates the glands, permeates every nerve and fibre of the body, gives tone and elasticity to the muscles, and will bring the rosy hue of health to the faded and pallid cheek. The Blood Searcher is the greatest alterative yet known. It is a distillation of the best tonic and alterative roots, herbs and plants known to man. The experience which I have had with this great remedy enables me to say that it will cure any of those diseases of a cachectic character, now so prevalent. There are hundreds of people now suffering with some disease of the class alluded to, that could be cured, if they would use the proper remedy. The human system at this time of the year is recovering from the torpor of the winter months, and the sluggishness and heaviness of the different suffering organs can be entirely removed by a few bottles of this great restorer. It needs a persistent effort in order to make a thorough cure.

It is by continued effort that disease is eradicated and health regained. Perseverance in medicine is as needful as in anything else, and those who use it are sure to be rewarded by the enjoyment of that greatest of all blessings. I receive a great many letters making special inquiries about the use of my Blood Searcher. It would involve too much time and labor to reply to them all by letter. I can only say that any one afflicted with any disease of debility, or of a scrofulous nature, it will be sure to do good, and cannot possibly do any harm. Please see my column advertisement, published in all the daily papers, for remarkable cures, the like of which has seldom been achieved by medicine. In purchasing look for my name over the cork and on the United States stamp on the top of the bottle, as I will not be reponsible for any other.

Prepared by Dr. George H. Keyser, 140 Wood street. Price one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Heat and Exhaustion.

It requires a constitution and physique of unusual strength to resist the effect of the enervating heat of July and August. Unless the system is toned and sustained by a wholesome stomachic during these oppressive months it is likely to be so severely debilitated as to render it an easy prey to the epidemics which prevail in the fall. "A wholesome stomachic! where is it to be found?" asks the reader, who has, perhaps, been told by his physician that a little good brandy is a serviceable stimulant, and has sought for that obsolete article in vain. It would be as idle to expect wholesomeness and purity among the liquors of commerce as to look for miracles of piety in the State prison, or wisdom in an idiot asylum.

There is one safe resource—but one—for those who need a protective tonic and health-sustaining invigorant. Let them commence at once, as the torrid season opens in all its intensity, a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Ask the returned officers and soldiers of the Union Army, who have used this elixir during the war, what they think of it. They [illegible] that it keeps up the vital forces under the wilting beams of a vertical sun without vitiating the blood or creating any undue excitement in the circulation. As the poet Cowper said of tea, "It cheers, but not inebriates." It braces the nervous organization and regulates all the functions of the body. No other stimulant can compare in purity with the Essence of Rye, which forms its basis, and the tonic, aperient and anti-bilious herbs with which it is medicated are the best of their kind on the face of the earth.

We Call Attention

To the advertisement, in another column, of the Church Home Festival, to be held this afternoon at the house and grounds of the Home.

This Institution has been established some eight or nine years, and in that time it has been the means of affording shelter and protection to many a destitute and needy soul. Its object is to provide a home for aged and indigent women, and for helpless children. There are at present several aged women and some fifty children who are receiving the benefits of this Institution, free of all cost. In order to afford this relief and protection to the helpless, the Home depends entirely upon the free-will offerings of the benevolent. We hope, therefore, that the Festival to be held this afternoon and evening for the benefit of this Institution may be largely and liberally patronized by the good people of the city and vicinity, so that the managers of the charity may have their hearts cheered and their hands sustained in carrying on their noble work.

Promising Crops in Egypt.

SERIOUS DISORDER IN PRUSSIA.

New York, June 13.—Letters from Madrid give some particulars of the military conspiracy which has lately been discovered in that capital: An attempt was made on the night of the 24th ult., by nearly the whole of the garrison, to make a pronunciamento, which it was hoped would be supported by a popular insurrection. The government received timely information of the conspiracy, which it prevented from assuming a serious character by immediately arresting a great number of the officers who were implicated in the affair. Marshal O'Donnell was, it is said, obliged to pass the night in the ministry of the interior, and it is intended to place Madrid and New Castle in a state of siege.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives currency to the rumor that the Emperor Napoleon has written to the Emperor Maximillian asking him to give over the administration of Mexican customs to the French authorities as guarantee for the payment of interest on the 3 per cent. loan, and adding that unless this is done it will be necessary to recall the French troops.

It is reported on the Paris Bourse that a Bourbon conspiracy, consisting of thirty persons who had assembled in Paris for the purpose of getting up a revolution in Naples had been discovered by the French police. The Spanish Government is said to be implicated in this affair.

We hear from Paris that France and Russia are now on the most cordial terms.

The prohibition against the export of cereals is consequently expected to be removed, as in Turkey the cotton crop is much below the average of recent seasons, both in quality and quantity of staple.

Marseilles journals state that considerable purchases of corn and flour have been made in that port on the account of the Italian government. In the last three days thirty thousand barrels of flour and forty thousand hectrolitres of corn were bought for that destination.

Serious disorders have just broken out at Marienburg, in Prussia. Men of the reserves broke into private houses and demanded, with menaces, money, provisions and clothes. Shops were pillaged, and threats of general pillage openly made. Officers were present at those scenes of brigandage, without being able to control the men, and troops have to be sent from Dantzic and Elberg.

The Fenian Invasion of Canada—The Authorities Cease Arming.

New York, June 13.—A special dispatch to the Tribune from Montreal says: The government has ceased arming. The night trains on the Grand Trunk railroad are again running, and the mail line of boats between the east and the west are also going. By order of the government no one is allowed to see or communicate with the Fenians in prison here. No fresh regiments have come out, though some drafts of men for those already in Canada have been made. All the volunteers are still at the front. None of the corps had any fight with the Fenians. CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The House Concurs in the Senate Amendments.

SPEECH BY THADDEUS STEVENS.

Washington, June 13.

SENATE.

The amendment from the House to the bill relating to bounties to colored soldiers was concurred in.

Several amendments to the legislative appropriation bill were made, among them: Increasing the salary of the Treasurer to $6,500; Commissioner of Public Buildings to $2,500; authorizing the President to appoint Private and Assistant Private Secretaries, and a Pardon Clerk; creating offices of Assistant Solicitor of the Treasury, and a Law Clerk in the Attorney General's Office. Thirty-nine thousand dollars was appropriated for Indian annuity goods.

Mr. Davis offered an amendment appropriating twenty millions of dollars to be paid to loyal owners of slaves mustered into the United States service.

At the suggestion of Mr. Cresswell, Mr. Davis modified his amendment so as to direct to be taken for the purpose named a special fund in the hands of the Secretary of War, derived from the payment of $300 commutation.

At the request of Mr. Fessenden the above was withdrawn, with the understanding that it should be attached to the army appropriation bill.

The bill was then passed.

Mr. Sherman moved that the Senate take up the five per cent. funding bill, for the purpose of allowing Mr. Van Winkle to submit some remarks upon it.

The bill was taken up, and Mr. Van Winkle addressed the Senate in favor of it, and urging the necessity for some such a measure as a necessary financial relief for the country.

Further consideration of the bill was postponed. At the conclusion of Mr. Van Winkle's speech, the question taken on the amendment placing $60,000 at the disposal of the Secretary of the Treasury, adopted by 23 against 14.

An amendment was offered appropriating twenty million dollars to pay the loyal owners of slaves mustered into the military service but withdrawn to be attached to the army.

Mr. Trumbull, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported with amendment, a bill to fix the number of Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, and to change certain judicial districts. The first section which makes the number one Justice and eight associates, is left intact. The second section which fixes circuits, is stricken out and the following is substituted: That the first and second circuits shall remain as now constituted, that the districts of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, shall constitute the third circuit; that the district of Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, shall constitute the fourth circuit; that the districts of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, shall constitute the fifth circuit; that the districts of Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee, shall constitute the sixth circuit; that the districts of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, shall constitute the seventh circuit; that the districts of Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, and Kansas, shall constitute the 8th circuit, and that the districts of California, Oregon and Nevada, shall constitute the ninth circuit.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the President of the United States, inclosing a resolution of the legislature of Georgia, asking the suspension of the collection of a direct tax in that State. Referred to the Committee on Finance. Also a communication from the President transmitting the acceptance, by the State of Georgia, of the donation of public lands for the establishment of an agricultural college.

After Executive Session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Stevens introduced a substitute for the bill introduced by him on the 28th of May, to enable the States in rebellion to regain their privileges in the Union, which was ordered to be printed. The substitute contains the following new section in reference to Tennessee:

"Section 9.—Whereas, The State of Tennessee has returned to her allegiance to the United States, and by a regular convention of her citizens has framed a constitution, which, on being submitted to the people, has been duly ratified, and which, though not fully republican nor suited to the altered condition of her institutions, yet as it contains many elements of a just government; therefore,

Be it enacted, That the State of Tennessee may be admitted to representation in Congress, and her present Senators and Representatives, if found to be duly appointed, elected and qualified, may be admitted to seats on taking the required oath; provided, that unless the said State of Tennessee shall, before the first day of January next, either by legislation or constitutional provision, enfranchise all classes of her citizens and extend the right of suffrage impartially to every class, and shall give to every person within her jurisdiction an equal standing in her courts of law and equity, both as suitors or witnesses, and shall ratify the amendment to the Constitution, Article 14th, proposed by this Congress, then the provisions of this act, so far as they relate to the State of Tennessee exclusively, shall cease and become null and void, and the said State shall no longer be represented in Congress.

The third section is altered so as to read: Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That whenever the President of the United States shall deem it proper, he shall issue his proclamation directing a convention to be called to form legitimate constitutions for their respective States. He shall direct an election to be held on a day certain, to choose delegates to a convention which shall meet at the time specified by him, at the Capitol of the State, and form a State Constitution which shall be submitted to a vote of the people, and if ratified by a majority of the legal voters, shall be declared the constitution of the State.

The sixth section, declaring "that those who have forfeited their citizenship shall not be entitled to exercise the elective franchise until five years after they shall have filed their intention to be reinvested with the right of citizenship, is amended so as to reduce the term to three years.

Mr. Jencks, from the Select Committee on the Civil Service, reported back the bill to regulate the civil service of the United States, which was recommitted and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Higby, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported back, with amendments, the bill granting the right of way to ditch and canal owners over the public lands in the States of California, Oregon and Nevada.

The amendments were agreed to, and the bill passed. It grants to every company or individual who has in accordance with the laws of the States of California, Oregon and Nevada, or of the United States, constructed or who may hereafter construct canals, ditches, flumes, &c., for the conveyance of water for mining, mechanical or agricultural purposes, the right of way over the public lands so long as such canal shall be used for such purposes.

Mr. Myers, from the Committee on Patents, reported a bill for the extension of the patent of Jonathan Ball for coating the interior of metalic water pipes with hydraulic cement.

Mr. Dawes spoke in opposition, and the bill was postponed till to-morrow.

Mr. Johnson, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported a bill to incorporate the Washington Laboratory and Mining Association, which, after some debate, was rejected.

Mr. Wilson, from the same Committee, reported a bill to establish an assay office for the assay of gold and silver at Portland, Oregon, and Bois City, Idaho. The bill also repeals the act establishing a branch mint at Dalles City, Oregon, and provides for the removal of the machinery, &c., of the branch mints in Charlotte, North Carolina, and Dahlonga, Georgia.

Mr. Henderson was addressing the House in support of the bill when the morning hour expired and the bill went over till to-morrow.

The Senate amendments to the Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States were taken from the Speaker's table for action by the House.

Mr. Stevens stated that if the House portion of the Committee on Reconstruction had examined the Senate amendments and were unanimously of opinion that they should be concurred in, the amendments were so slight that unless the gentlemen on the other side desired to discuss it, the members on his side were willing to take the vote at once. If, however, discussion was desired, he suggested that speeches should be limited to fifteen minutes, as he proposed to call the previous question at half-past three o'clock.

Mr. Harding, of Ky., proposed that the Democratic side should have one hour allowed them for debate, to be divided among them as they choose.

Mr. Stevens agreed to that.

It was understood that the Democratic hour would be parcelled between Messrs. Rogers, of New Jersey, Harding, of Kentucky, and Finck, of Ohio. He was followed on his own side of the question by Messrs. Finck and Harding, (of Ky.,) and on the Republican side by Messrs. Henderson and Spaulding.

The House then seconded the previous question, and Mr. Stevens closed the debate. He congratulated the House and the country that a scheme was soon to be submitted to the people for the admission of an outlawed community to the privileges and advantages of civilized and free government, and a scheme containing, he said, as much positive good as the omission of many better things. In my youth, he continued, in manhood, and in my old age, I have fondly dreamed that when any fortunate chance should have broken up for a time the foundations of our institutions, and released us from the obligations, the most tyrannical that were ever imposed in the name of freedom, the intelligent, free and just men of this Republic turn to their professions, and their conscience would have so remodeled all our institutions as to have freed them from every vestige of oppression of inequality of rights of the recognized degradation of the poor and the superior caste of the rich. In short, that no distinction would be tolerated in this purified Republic, but that which arose from merit and conduct. This bright dream has vanished like the baseless fabric of a vision. I find that we shall be obliged to be content with patching up the worst portions of the ancient edifice, and leaving its other parts to be swept through by the tempests, the frosts and the storms of despotism. Do you inquire why, holding these reins, and possessing some will of my own, I accept so imperfect a proposition? I answer, because I live among men, and not among angels; among men, as intelligent, as determined, as independent as myself, who, not agreeing with me, do not choose to yield their opinions. Mutual consideration, therefore, is our only resort for mutual hostility. We might well have been justified in making renewed and more strenuous efforts for a better plan. Could we have had the co-operation of the Executive, with his cordial assistance, the rebel States might nave been made model republics and this Nation an empire of universal freedom; but he preferred restoration to reconstruction. He chose that the slave states should remain as nearly as possible in their ancient condition, with such small modifications as he and his prime minister should suggest, without any impertinent interference from Congress. He anticipated the legitimate action of the national legislature and by rank usurpation erected governments in the provinces, imposed upon them institutions in the most arbitrary and unconstitutional manner, and now maintains them as legitimate governments, and insolently demands that they be represented in Congress on equal terms with the loyal States. To repress this tyranny, and at the same time to do some justice to the conquered rebels, requires caution. The great danger is, that the seceders may soon overwhelm the loyal men in Congress. The haste urged upon us by some loyal, but impetuous men; their anxiety to embrace the representatives of rebels; their ambition to display their dexterity in the use of the broad mantle of charity, and especially the danger arising from the unscrupulous use of patronage, and from the oily rations of false prophets, famous for sixty day obligations, and for protested political promises, admonish us to make no further delay.

Referring to the third section, Mr. Stevens said he could not look upon the Senate amendment as an improvement. In his judgment, it endangered the government of the country, both State and National, and might give the next Congress and President to the reconstructed rebels, with their enlarged basis of representation and the exclusion of loyal men of color from the ballot box. He saw no hope of safety unless in the prescription of proper enabling acts, which should do justice to the freedmen, and enjoin enfranchisement as a conditional precedent. While he saw much good in the proposition, he did not pretend to be satisfied with it, and still he was anxious for its speedy adoption, for he deprecated delay. Let us, he said in conclusion, no longer delay. Let us take what we can get now, and hope for better things in future legislation, in enabling acts or other provisions.

The House then proceeded to vote by yeas and nays on concurring in the amendment of the Senate. Several announcements having been made of members absent or paired, and as to how they would have voted,

Mr. Eldridge, in ridicule, announced that if Mr. Brooks, of New York, and Mr. Voorhees, of Indiana, had not been turned out of their seats, they would have voted "No;" to which Mr. Stevens added that if Jefferson Davis was here he would probably have voted the same way. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Wentworth added—"So would Jake Thompson."

The Speaker directed his own name to be called, and he voted aye.

The vote was a strictly party vote, and resulted—yeas, 120; nays, 32.

The Speaker announced that over two-thirds of both Houses having agreed to the joint resolution proposing amendments to the Constitution of the United States, the joint resolution was passed.

The House proceeded to the business on the Speaker's table, and disposed thereof, as follows: The Senate amendment to act making appropriations for the preservation and completion of certain public works. It was nonconcurred in, and a Committee of Conference asked. The Senate amendment to the bill further to provide for the safety of the lives of passengers. The bill making provisons against the transportation of nitro-glycerine, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce. The Senate bill to authorize the Commissioner of Patents to pay those employed as examiners and assistant examiners, the salary fixed by law for the duties performed by them.

Mr. Harding, of Illinois, moved to lay the bill on the table without taking action on it.

The Speaker presented a message from the President, asking the attention of Congress to a copy of a joint resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia, requesting a suspension of the collection of the Internal Revenue tax due from that State, under the act of August 5th, 1861. It was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Also, a message from the President informing Congress that a copy of the act of the Georgia Legislature, of the 10th of March last, has been officially communicated to him, by which that State accepted the donation of lands made to it under the Agricultural College bill, which was laid on the table.

Also, a letter from the Secretary of War, in answer to the House resolution of June 11th, in reference to the draft in the Eighth Congressional District of Pennsylvania, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Also, a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, in answer to the House resolution of March 28th, calling for information in reference to our commercial relations with British America, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Davis objected to the printing, and pending the discussion of the matter, the House at four o'clock adjourned.

Latest Washington Items.

Washington, June 13.—The Secretary of the Treasury to-day transmitted a report from Jas. W. Taylor, special agent of the Department communicating general information in regard to the commercial relations between the United States and British America. The Records show that for the year ending June 30th, 1865, our trade with British America was second only in magnitude to that with Great Britain. Its aggregate was $69,150,602, while the commerce with Great Britain, $225,709,263. The External trade of the United States for 1865 consisted of $339,768,220, exports, and $234,434,167 imports, an aggregate of $574,202,387. Of the clearances for British America 1,750,548 tons were of American vessels and 1,787,204 tons of Canadian and other foreign vessels. Of the entrances from British America 1,689,829 tons were American and 1,553,364 were Canadian and other foreign vessels. In 1864 and 1865 the aggregate was $68,016.20, of which 455,300.36, or 48 per cent., was with the United States. Since the abrogation of the Reciprocity treaty American purchasers are paying higher rates for Canadian timber and purchasing in larger quantities than in 1865, notwithstanding the necessity of their paying a duty of twenty per cent. on the froutier of the United States.

An Abandonment Case.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions, yesterday, a case of abandonment was heard. Dennis A. Boland was the defendant, and it was alleged that he had abandoned and refused to provide for the support of his wife, Sarah A. Boland. The parties were twice married, first under the Protestant form, and second under the Catholic, according to the faith of the husband. The fact appeared that Mr. Boland was living apart from his wife, that his conduct had not been altogether proper, that he was living with his mother, and that he gave himself no concern, in a pecuniary sense, about his wife. It also appeared that the parties had been boarding, having a room furnished, and that during the absence of the husband, and without his knowledge, the wife packed up and hurriedly removed the furniture, and after domiciling herself with her son-in-law on Grant street, sent for her husband. He refused to go where she was, remained the week out at his boarding-house, and then went to his mother's, as stated. The defense contended that the abandonment, if any, was on the part of the wife. The court held the case under consideration.

Amusements.

Although quite a number of the bon ton have been driven by the extreme warm weather in search of umbrageous shades to hide their perspiring forms during the heated term, yet enough remain to make brilliant the auditoriums of our Theatres with their benign presence, and fill the pockets of our self sacrificing managers with the root of evil.

At the Opera House business has been on the increase during the last three nights, crowded houses being the order of the day.

Last night the very French play Camille was introduced with Charlotte Thompson as the frail heroine. We have seen this character in the hands of various artistes, some of whom have attained a high reputation in the histrionic profession, but seldom have seen it played so well as by Miss Thompson. Around even her coquetries in the first two acts she casts a womanly modesty that is bewitching, while the last she fills with such feeling and genuine pathos as to excite the sympathy of her auditors even to tears.

The versatile and pleasing actress, Julia Daly, appeared to a good house last night at the Theatre, in the excellent comedy of "A Match for a Marquis," and in the roaring farce of "The Fool of the Family," in both of which she elicited the laughter and applause of all present. Miss Daly's style is light and airy, and consequently well adapted to the present state of the atmosphere.

A Quarrel About a Customer.

James Leman yesterday appeared before Alderman Humbert and made oath against S. Tobias for disorderly conduct and surety of the peace. The parties are both in the clothing business, on St. Clair street, having stores in close proximity to each other. Yesterday a man stopped to examine some goods at Leman's door, when Tobias stepped to his side and stated the goods he was examining were of an inferior quality, and that better could be found in his store at very reasonable rates. This exasperated Leman to such an extent that he used some very harsh language to his rival in trade, whereupon the latter pulled out a small penknife and threatened to cut the internals out of Lehman, who, fearing such a result, hastened to the magistrate's office and made the information as stated. The affair was settled after a partial hearing, Tobias paying the costs and promising not to interfere with the business of his neighbor in the future.

Housebreaker Detected—A Fight and an Escape.

Yesterday morning between one and two o'clock, Mr. Charles Seely, proprietor of the Grant House, in Allegheny City, detected a man in the act of prying off one of the window shutters in the rear of the house. Mr. Seely was in the second story when he first saw the intruder, but after some cautious maneuvering he reached the yard, where he grasped with the villian, who, after a protracted struggle, succeeded in escaping from the clutches of Mr. Seely and getting away, not however until his face was severely mashed by the courageous host. Owing to the darkness the man could not be recognized, but the police are on the alert, and with what clues they have will doubtless succeed in capturing him.

The Grand Vocal Concert.

The grand vocal concert in St Paul's Cathedral last evening was a success. The performers acquitted themselves in an excellent manner, and all were highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. The programme was varied and embraced many beautiful musical compositions. The organ proved all that could be anticipated. Everybody was pleased and delighted with it, and all was lost in its wonderful power and harmony. To-morrow evening Prof. George W. Morgan, the musical director of Grace Church, New York, will give a grand organ concert. Upon this occasion the power, combination and harmony of the great organ will be fully displayed, since Prof. Morgan has no equal in the world as an organist. The programme is published in another column.

Alderman Strain's Office.

West and Berdan, the young men charged with an aggravated assault and battery upon George Dyer, appeared before Alderman Strain, yesterday, and gave bail for a further hearing on Saturday.

John S. Bechtley and John Conly were held to bail for a further hearing on a charge of having stolen seventeen dozen of brooms, the property of John Madeira, from the freight depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, in Allegheny.

Coroner's Inquest—A Verdict of Censure.

Coroner Clawson continued the inquest at the Mayor's office last evening, in the case of Oscar S. Smith, who was killed some days since near Newark, Ohio., on the Pittsburgh Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad.

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a collision between the fast line No. A. and the local freight No. 19, of the P. C. & C. R. R. Co. near Newark, Ohio., and the jury believed the collision was the result of gross negligence on the part of J. H. Ross, conductor of the local freight, and Geo. Beech, engineer of the same.

A Chance for a Steamboat.—Our readers will bear in mind that to-day at half-past two o'clock the handsome little pleasure steamer, Fort Pitt, will be sold at public auction at the foot of Irwin street. She was built last fall, is all oak, and is staunch in every particular. The only reason for selling her is, that her owners are engaged in other business which requires all their time and attention. For picnics and pleasure or fishing parties she is just the thing. She is also admirably adapted to short trades, when the trip could be made in daylight. Who knows but that she may be the stepping stone to some man's fortune.

A Penitent.—Annie Monday was charged, before Alderman Johns, yesterday, with the larceny of a half dozen knives and forks from the residence of Mrs. J. B. Beirman, where she was employed as a domestic. The accused was arrested and brought before the Squire, to whom she acknowledged her guilt, with a shower of penitential tears and earnest entreaties for pardon. The knives and forks were forked over to their right owner, who withdrew the charge, and Annie was allowed to go her way rejoicing.

77th Penna. Volunteers.—This evening the 77th Penna. regiment will hold a meeting at Firemen's Hall, Market street. General attendance is requested.

A Trip to Geneva—The Appearance of the Country in Fayette and Greene Counties—The Opposition Line—Table of Distances—The Crops and Fruit, &c., &c., &c.

A trip to the country during the heated term is at all times pleasant, but when traveling on a new boat, with pleasant and accommodating officers, it becomes doubly so. We lately had practical experience of this fact, and can therefore speak of what came under our own observation.

Reader! did you ever take a trip to Geneva? Not that Geneva lying under the shadow of the mighty Alps, and famed for its manufacture of watches, but Geneva, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, nestling under the shadow of the Blue Ridge. We left Pittsburgh on Saturday evening, on board the new steamer of the opposition line—the "Chieftain"—commanded by Capt. Robert R. Abrams, at fifteen minutes after five. At the same moment the "Fayette" of the old line, backed into the stream, and the two boats started together. We entered the locks and left them together, and then the race became exciting.

Above Brownstown we encountered a terrific thunder storm, which lasted all night. There was not much opportunity afforded that night to take notes, and the passengers, collected in the cabin, amused themselves with music and reading, or in conversing in groups.

Breakfast time Sunday morning found us at Rice's Landing, where Dan Rice was born. A wagon, upon which is a threshing machine, occupies the site of the house in which he was born. That threshing machine was suggestive. Had one been there, and been used during his boyhood's early days, the equescurriculum would have probably lost a brilliant ornament. Leaving the lock at "Rice's," we pursued our course, arriving at Geneva at half past ten Sunday morning.

The valley of the Monongahela is eminently fitted for slack water navigation. In many places the hills slope down to the water's edge, and again plateaus, varying in size, stretch out from the bank of the river to the base of the hills. All of these flats are occupied by farms in cultivation, and, although the season has been very backward, some of the crops look very well. As a general thing fruit has been mostly killed. There will be a few apples, but nothing else of consequence. Above Brownsville, land averages from forty-five to one hundred dollars per acre. At Geneva coal is selling at three cents a bushel, being slightly under the selling price here. Back in the mountains, some ten miles from Geneva, land sells as low as one dollar per acre.

From the summit of the hill above Geneva we could see Laurel Hill, Blue Ridge, and a small portion of the Allegheny range, stretching away for a distance of from fifty to seventy-five miles. The valley of Cheat river, the Oriphant furnaces and mills, the burning well and other objects of special note were discernable.

The Oil fever is gaining ground in that section. On Dunkard creek the yield of the wells is increasing. On George's creek and Crow creek the indications for oil are good. One well is spouting out water to a height of about twenty-five feet, and another throws water and cinder over the top of the derrick. In both instances there is a small quantity of oil accompanying the flow.

In regard to the Gold excitement we did not learn anything very favorable. A gentleman, who had struck the quartz vein on his farm, informed us that it was merely a slide, and that assays made in Philadelphia and New York proved conclusively that it would not pay to work it.

The slackwater improvement is principally owned by Hon. J. K. Moorhead, and his brother Joel, of Philadelphia. The last dam is built at Rice's Landing, slacking the water to within three miles of Geneva. The entire river is to be slacked to Fairmount, or where Tiger Valley and West Fork form the Monongahela. The Virginians, before the war, had raised the necessary funds to complete their portion of the improvement, but it fell through with the rebellion. They have now commenced raising the means to fulfill their portion of the contract, and as soon as they commence work, the Pennsylvania company will finish their part to Morgantown. The cost of each lock and dam will be about $90,000. Fairmount is thirty miles above Morgantown, so that the entire trade will be one hundred and forty miles in length.

The People's Line, known as the opposition, is a joint stock effort of the people of the valley, some four hundred of the most substantial citizens being interested in its success. For upwards of twenty years the old line has held undisputed sway. The new line coming into opposition, has had the effect to cut down freights and passage, and will be beneficial in every way. There appears to be business enough for both lines. The boats composing the new line are the Chieftain and the Elector, both handsome and staunch built boats. The Chieftain is officered as follows: Captain, Robt. R. Abrams; Clerks, Captain Robert C. Mason, John A. Dales; Pilots, Capt. William Conway, J. B. Williams; Mates, Messrs. Joseph Allfree and Enoch Dougherty; Engineers, Messrs. Joshua Michen and John Garwood. The Elector is just finished, and will be found at the wharf to-day. She will leave on her first trip about next Monday. The Chieftain sets a splendid table, and her cook is a jewel of twenty-six years experience.

Brownsville has been making rapid strides in the way of improvements during the past few years, and really looks like an embryo city. It is well provided with churches and schools, and on the first day of September next a new seminary, under the patronage of the Episcopalians, will be opened. Handsome residences dot the shores all the way up, prominent among which we may mention that of Capt. Jacobs of the old line.

For the benefit of those having business at different points along the river, we took the pains to ascertain correctly the distances from point to point, which we append:

The Ladies' Friend.

Yesterday we paid a visit to the agricultural wareroooms of Messrs. Beckham & Long, No. 127 Liberty street, to witness an exhibition of the working of the Ladies Friend Washing Machine. It is of very simple construction, consisting of a set of rollers over which the articles to be cleansed are passed by means of a corrugated board to which a lever is attached. The lever is worked without any labor whatever, and in this respect, as in any others, surpasses anything of the kind we have ever seen.

We remained about half an hour viewing this rare work of mechanical ingenuity, during which time we saw a large comfort, a counterpane, a table cloth, and a lady's collar of the finest texture, thoroughly washed.

The finer articles, which nobody will trust to any other machine, were pronounced by several matrons standing by to be scrupulously clean, and yet not a single thread of them was injured by the process.

After what we have seen we are prepared to pronounce the new machine far ahead of all competitors, and destined ere long to become an indispensable article to every household in the country, the price being only $15. James Kinsley & Cook, well known for their indefatigable energy and enterprise are the proprietors of the Ladies' Friend, and can be seen during the day at Beckham & Long's. We advise our skeptical friends, and the public in general to go see and be convinced of the merits of this machine. A few county rights will be disposed of at very liberal rates. The agency for such a popular machine will have a good paying investment.

Transportation to Philadelphia.

General Sweitzer requests us to state that transportation to the flag presentation at Philadelphia, to take place on the fourth of July next, will be furnished by him, to the color bearers and color guards of the several regiments of the 18th military division, composed of the counties of Allegheny, Armstrong, Indiana and Jefferson. Applications can be made by the late commanders of regiments, or in case that officer is not within reach of the persons desiring transportation, by such persons directly to General Sweitzer. As transportation is provided for color bearers and color guard only, satisfactory evidence in all cases will be required that the applicant is one of them.

A Cool Proceeding.—John C. Cool was arrested and brought before Mayor Morrison yesterday charged on oath of William Harmer with surety of the peace. The offense consisted in Cool entering the house of Harmer and using violent and threatening language toward the wife of the latter, who became so frightened at the demonstration that she became ill and was forced to retire to bed. Cool was fined five dollars and was made to enter bail in the sum of $300 to keep the peace, which will doubtless have the effect of keeping him Cool for several days.

Aggravated Assault.—J. A. Manti was committed to jail, yesterday, for trial on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by William Hagemann.

Boiler Explosion.—On Monday last, the boiler of a steam saw-mill belonging to Mr. James Young, located four miles west of Ebensburg, exploded with terrible force, completely demolishing the engine and machinery, and razing the mill building to a level with the ground. The boiler of the engine was lifted up by the steam and carried a distance of sixty feet. Some half dozen persons were in the mill when the explosion occurred. Singular as it may seem, none of these were killed outright, though two were considerably injured.

Fatal Accident.—On Saturday afternoon last, Henry Hoerle, a carpenter, engaged at work on a bridge crossing the Conemaugh river from Johnstown to Cambria borough, was instantly killed by falling from the bridge into the river beneath. His head struck a stone at the bottom of the river, crushing in his skull. It is a somewhat singular coincidence as to date, that the father of the deceased was suddenly killed in the Johnstown Mechanical Works just one year ago to the date from Saturday.

Instant Death.—On Monday last, a man named George Wilkinson, residing in Blacklick township, Cambria county, was instantly killed under the following circumstances: He was engaged felling trees in the vicinity of his home, and had cut down one tree, which lodged against another in its descent. While felling the second tree, a large limb from the first broke off and fell upon him, crushing in his skull and killing him instantly. He was a married man and leaves a family.

Fraudulent Representation.—Inman Carson preferred a charge of false pretense against Cornelius Bellenbacker yesterday, before Alderman Taylor. Carson alleged that the accused obtained a five dollar greenback from him by false and fraudulent representation, some time since, which although frequently requested to do so, he had failed to return. A warrant was issued.

Camp Meeting.—The Methodist folks, hereabouts, are talking about holding their annual Camp meeting in the "tented grove" near Tarentum. We understand the managers of that ground meet this afternoon at Smithfield street M. E. Church, to consider the propriety of holding one this season.

Inquest.—The man who died so suddenly in South Pittsburgh on Tuesday, was not Harrison Williams, as we stated in yesterday's issue, but Reese Williams. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the remains yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict of death from "rupture of the heart."

62d Penna. Volunteers.—The surviving members of the 62d Penna. Volunteers will hold an important meeting on Monday evening next, at Council Chamber, City Hall, to complete arrangements for participating in the Flag presentation, at Philadelphia, on the 4th proximo.

Burglary.—The house of a man named Snyder, in the Diamond, was entered through a back window on Tuesday morning by a thief or thieves, and jewelry and other valuables worth one hundred and fifty dollars, carried off. No clue has yet been obtained of the burglar.

Lecture.—Mattie McC. Brown, of Ohio, has agreed to lecture this evening in Trinity M. E. Church, Ninth Ward. The subject is "Principles," and from the very high reputation enjoyed by the lecturer, we can promise our readers a rare intellectual treat.

Barn Burned.—On Tuesday evening a barn belonging to Mr. Chislett, on the Morning Side road, in Collins township, was totally destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Bail Piece.—Thomas Kendricks, charged with larceny, and held in bonds for his appearance for trial, was yesterday surrendered on a bail piece and committed to jail.

THE CAMPAIGNS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Under this title Mr. WILLIAM SWINTON has issued from the press of Mr. C. B. RICHARDSON, of New York, a royal octavo volume of 640 pages.

To the performance of this task Mr. SWINTON brought several important advantages. He shared the vicissitudes of the Army of the Potomac from the beginning to the end of the war. As an army correspondent to the public journals he demonstrated the possession of rare capacity for delineating army movements, and the still higher ability of forming an accurate judgment of plans of campaign and the execution thereof. He, moreover, had a personal acquaintance with the Generals-in-Chief of that army, and with most subordinate officers of high rank and reputation. He had heard them criticise the movements that were made, and contrast them with those that were possible. After the war closed most of these officers freely placed at his disposal their official papers and private memorandas. The leaders of the Confederate army extended to him like favors. Hence, he was enabled to look at plans and movements both from the Union and Rebel stand-points; to explain many discrepancies; to detect various erroneous judgments; and to let in floods of light on some matters which were necessarily obscure at the times they transpired.

That Mr. SWINTON's judgments, on all points, may be accepted as the final conclusions of historical criticism we are far enough from asserting. These events are yet too recent to be judged with perfect candor. We stand too near to take a proper survey of so vast and momentous movements. Those who come after us will have ampler knowledge upon which to predicate judgments, and will be divested of those passions and prejudices which now unconsciously warp the calmest and most upright minds. But, in this particular department Mr. SWINTON has made a contribution to historic literature of considerable importance; certainly of greater value than any preceding one. The volume is enriched with diagrams of all the larger battles, drawn by accomplished engineers of the army.

The judgment pronounced by Mr. SWINTON upon Gen. McCLELLAN does not warrant the passionate admiration of his vehement partizans. That judgment is that his military capacities and aptitudes, considerable in extent and value, and much better suited to the cabinet than the field; that his deficiencies point in the same direction; that he is good to plan but not to execute; that he is prone to exaggerate the difficulties in his way, and hence to underestimate the resources at his command.

So far Mr. SWINTON confirms the opinions of the radicals, in Congress and out. But our author is careful to sustain his conclusions by proof. Take an illustration. It will be remembered that when General McCLELLAN lay with his army in front of Washington during a large part of 1861-2, he insisted he was outnumbered largely by the enemy opposed to him; and that the rebel forces were much superior to his own in equipment and discipline. It is now demonstrated that he had 150,000 men at his disposal for active operations, while the forces opposed to him never exceeded 62,000, and sank as low as 44,000; and these opposing forces were suffering under a laxity of discipline, a demoralization of temper, inferiority in arms, equipment and transportation, which made it impossible for them to do any thing but retreat if McCLELLAN had made an advance.

So at Yorktown. When General McCLELLAN began that useless siege he had a magnificent army of 80,000 men. General MAGRUDER had only 11,000; and of these, he was able to bring to the point of operations, no more than 5,000. Yet there Gen. McCLELLAN remained in the mud, a full month, digging trenches, until the forces against him rose to 36,000. When Gen. McClellan made the assault, the enemy was gone.

Thus is it demonstrated that the change against Gen. McCLELLAN by the radicals did not proceed from jealousy of his fame, but from undubitable facts, proving his utter incapacity for the position he held.

Of Generals BURNSIDE, POPE, HOOKER and MEADE, our author's judgment does not differ from that of most intelligent civilians throughout the country.

In respect to General GRANT, large abatements are made from the popular estimate. He gives the Lieutenant General credit for great tenacity of purpose in the pursuit of the main object, but detracts from his ability to manœuvre successfully large masses of troops. His success in taking and overthrowing General LEE and capturing Richmond is attributed to his superior inflexibility of will, and to the exhaustion of the Confederate resources of men and material.

Mr. SWINTON writes with great clearness, and has an unusual fulness of personal knowledge of the matters upon which he discourses. But this must be said, that his judgments of men and events do not differ widely from those which have obtained all along among intelligent men who had no special opportunities for gathering information. If he may be accepted as a safe guide, popular instinct seems to have run before and anticipated the award of history.

Mr. SWINTON attributes some of the military mistakes of the war to the lack of comprehension by Federal commanders of the political forces at work throughout the community. Precisely what he means is not apparent. But it was evident enough that party considerations, to a large degree, superseded those of a purely military nature, in directing the movements of armies. President LINCOLN fell into the mistake of entrusting the chief military authority to men who did not coincide with him in opinion as to the ends for which the [illegible] should be waged, and the manner of it. It was the first time a government, free to choose, deliberately elected in time of war, to entrust the command of its armies to its political enemies. Admitting all the generals were loyal, in a subordinate sense, it was natural they should not care to give the government decisive results in the field until assured final victory would be put to such use as they could approve. Almost unconsciously this consideration operated. But when the scheme was developed for making the most conspicuous commander the candidate for the Presidency of the party opposed to war, and in sympathy with the rebellion, it was manifest the dictates of military science would be held inferior to political suggestions. It was this blunder of President LINCOLN's that protracted the struggle. Perhaps there was a providential ordering in it, however, for the lengthening of the war caused it more completely to serve the ends of Liberty and Humanity.

—The Emperor Napoleon is restoring the garden of the Cæsar's palace, in Rome, on the most extensive scale. Possibly he hopes to dig something out of it for his fourth volume.

—Edward A. Frazer, a New York lawyer, whose library was in a damp basement, died of cholera on Monday, and a domestic who washed his clothes died of the same disease on Wednesday.

—The old Jesuit prophesy of the destruction of San Francisco by a great earthquake during the year 1866, has caused immense consternation among divers old women of both sexes in that city.

—A man in New York has raised one hundred thousand young trout, which he has sold at $50 per thousand, for stocking streams and ponds. This is doing the small fish business on a large scale.

—A beautiful daughter of Mr. Walter Matthews, of Augusta, Me., was torn limb from limb and otherwise horribly mangled by being caught in the machinery of a blind factory in that city last week.

—M. Millard has covered France with newspaper boys, after the American manner. His enterprise in establishing agencies cost him three hundred thousand francs, but the expected returns are great.

—A couple were married in Cairo last week with a judicious difference in age, the bride being thirteen and the groom ninety-one. The girl was rich, which makes the affair still more a matter of wonder.

—"It is affirmed here," says a Berlin letter, "that the Emperor of Russia has addressed to King William no less than three letters, in which he blamed the policy of Count de Bismark, and pleaded the cause of peace."

—M. Bertrand, a veteran under Napoleon I., celebrated his golden wedding at New Haven, last week. He fought under the Emperor at Ratisbon and Wagram, and was one of the survivors of the Moscow expedition.

—The grumbling of the Canadian press at the alleged delay of the U. S. Government, in enforcing the neutrality laws, reminds one of the boy who, on being rescued from drowning, growled at the quantity of water he had been obliged to swallow.

—Some of the streets of London are very narrow. Out of 440 in the city, in but 70 of them is there room for more than two lines of vehicles to pass, and in 111 streets one line of vehicles only can pass. 101 of the streets are not thoroughfares, at all, and have no exits.

—An interesting insurance question was recently decided by the Supreme Court of Missouri. A building insured against fire fell down. The fall occasioned a fire, which destroyed all the fallen materials. Was the insurance company liable? The Court said, no. The fire must be the efficient cause, and the loss the direct effects of the fire.

—At a recent meeting of the citizens of Pine Bluff county, Arkansas, General Yell offered resolutions declaring that they wished to be relieved of morbid feelings and insane ideas; that States have no right to secede; that negroes should be allowed all civil rights; that a stay law should be passed; that immigration should be favored.

—The Emperor Alexander is going to sojourn in Warsaw during the present critical state of European affairs; and in the event of war, he will go to the Silesian army, accompanied by Count Bismark, whose eminence in diplomacy has long since covered up the minor fact that he is a major in a regiment of Landwehr cavalry, and so a soldier.

—A dispatch from Clear Rapids, under date of the 5th instant, to Des Moines, Iowa, says that eight members of a merchant's family in Marion were taken with trichiniasis several weeks ago, and yesterday two died, and the other six will die. An examination showed the worms throughout the muscles in enormous quantities. The fact has produced great excitement in that vicinity.

—It is said that the interior of Pennsylvania shows the curious effect of the advance of civilization upon nature. The flora of the State has been found to have undergone remarkable changes, plants that were formally rare being now quite abundant. This change is attributed in a great measure to the spread of railroads, and some botanists predict that the "foreign plants will ultimately supplant the natives."

—A determined double suicide, near Paris, has just been brought to light. A river-keeper observed the bodies of a male and female floating near the surface. Having brought them to land they were found to be bound together, the man's left arm to the woman's right, while the former had also about ten pound weight of stones in his pockets. They were each elegantly dressed, bore no marks of violence, and had apparently been in the water about a fortnight.

—A brutal murder has just been brought to light at Mt. Pleasant, Delaware. Andrew P. Armstrong, a farmer, had been living unhappily with his wife, and on the 19th ultimo he cruelly murdered her by breaking her skull with an axe handle. He secreted the body under the floor of a pig pen, and then inserted advertisements in the newspapers saying she had suddenly disappeared, and offering large rewards for any information leading to the discovery of her whereabouts. "Murder will out," and a day or two ago the body was discovered, and the guilty murderer was put under arrest.

NATIONAL MILITARY ASYLUM.
The Managers of the National Asylum for discharged volunteer soldiers, authorized by Act of Congress, approved March 21, 1866, ask proposals for sites for Asylums by donation or sale. The premises must be situate in one of the Loyal States, contain at least 200 acres of land and be in a healthy location and easy of access by railroad or otherwise. It is the purpose of the managers to erect, without delay, extensive and permanent buildings for said Asylums, and its establishment will be largely advantageous to any section or railroad in the vicinity of its location.
Plans, specifications and estimates for Asylum buildings, including detached cottages, are also asked for the approval of the Board. Liberal compensation will be given for the successful plan.
Proposals, plans, specifications and estimates—the first named to be in writing, containing post and description of grounds and terms and conditions of transfer—must be sent to Major General B. F. BUTLER, at Lowell, Mass., on or before the 30th day of June, 1866. BENJ. F. BUTLER,
President Board of Managers.
LEWIS B. GUNCKEL, Secretary.
Papers entitled to publish the Laws of the United States are respectfully requested to publish this three (3) weeks prior to the 30th of June, 1866, and send their bill, with copy of notice, as above directed. je1:c6

SAVE THYSELF.
A CURE FOR INTEMPERANCE.
Dr. S. Cutter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.
The greatest Nervine ever discovered. The addition, within the last ten years, of Dr. Cutter's Nervine Discovery to the English Bitters, makes it a perfect antidote to intemperance. Previous to his discovery of the Nervine, this medicine was before the English public, celebrated as a Tonic and Alterative, in diseases of the Stomach and of the Bowels, and diseases arising from impedities of the blood. As a nervine is always the choice of the Stomach; in all persons addicted to the use of stimulants and narcotics, such as alcohol and malt liquors, opium, morphia, arsenic, tobacco, &c., as it removes the morbid appetite, or craving of the stomach for stimulant; in Headache, Neuralgia, and all nervous diseases, it has no equal as a Nervine.
Ten years use of the improved English Bitters in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, St. Mary's Hospital, Newgate and other prisons, has established its reputation, as a cure for intemperance, and gained for it the approval of the attending surgeons in all the hospitals and prisons throughout Great Britain, and is prescribed now by many physicians in private practice, for persons addicted to the use of stimulants and sedatives. In Paralysis, St. Vitus' Dance, Epiliptic Fits, Nervous Twitchings, and all Nervous diseases, it has no equal. Wholesale and Retail Agent,

Court of Quarter Sessions.

Judges Sterrett and Brown presiding.

Wednesday, June 13.—In the case of George Hoffman, indicted for selling liquor to minors, the jury found a verdict of not guilty, but required defendant to pay the costs.

The same defendant was indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, the jury finding a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred until Saturday.

Mary Pelling, of Birmingham, appeared as prosecutor against Daniel Mayhew, for assault and battery, but failing to convince the jury that her complaint was just, they acquitted defendant, and required that she should pay the costs. The court so ordered and took occasion to remind Mary that she was the source of a great deal of annoyance, not a term passing without her presence, either as defendant or prosecutor. She was advised to behave herself better in the future.

William Steen was tried for an assault and battery on Franz Bartz. The jury acquitted, but required the prosecutor to pay one-third, and the defendant two-thirds of the costs.

Conrad Roxdeffer was tried for a similar offense on the person of Barbary Koltenhiger, and was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and the costs. The parties live in Pitt township.

Daniel Mayhew, Mary, his wife, and Sylvester, his son, were indicted for resisting officer John Gruntz, of Birmingham, in the discharge of his duty. The circumstances of this case were: Daniel Mayhew had been prosecuted by Mary Pelling for assault and battery, and the warrant for his arrest placed in the hands of the prosecutor, Guntz. Upon making the arrest Gruntz met with resistance, and opposed it by using a mace, with which he struck Mayhew several times on the head. Mayhew's wife and son, seeing him thus treated, interfered and endeavored to assist him in resisting the officer. Evidence was adduced that the officer used his mace whilst he had the defendent in a prostrate position, with his knee upon his breast. The weapon was about two feet in length, more than inch in diameter, iron bound at one end. John R. Large, Esq., was counsel for the defense, and in his speech to the jury adverted to the fact that in many instances officers, in making arrests, become unduly excited and used weapons when there was no real necessity for so doing. In the present case the officer struck his prisoner repeatedly, wounding him severely in the head. The jury found Daniel Mayhew guilty, and in the case of his wife and son rendered a verdict of not guilty, the county to pay the costs.

Frederick Kauf, of Lower St. Clair, pleaded guilty to selling liquor without license, and was sentenced to pay a fine of forty dollars and the costs.

Louisa Myers, of Birmingham, pleaded guilty to a like offense, and was fined ten dollars and the costs.

William H. Baker, colored, was tried and found guilty of the larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from a guest at the Union Depot Hotel. Defendant was employed at the hotel as waiter, and whilst acting in that capacity broke open a valise and took therefrom the coat. He left for the east, was captured at Harrisburg, and on his return acknowledged his guilt to the officer having him in charge; also stating that he admitted a person to the hotel in the night, several times, for the purpose of thieving.

The same defendant was next placed on trial for the larceny of eighty-five dollars from Scott Hughbanks, a fellow-waiter at the Union Hotel. The evidence was altogether circumstantial, but, in the opinion of the jury, sufficiently strong to warrant a verdict of guilty.

The same defendant pleaded guilty to an assault and battery on oath of Scott Hughbanks. Remanded for sentence.

Henry Davis was indicted for felonious assault and battery, in cutting and stabbing William Evans with a knife with intent to kill and murder. James Neald appeared as prosecutor. A difficulty occurred between the parties on the night of the 2d of May. They had been in each other's company, drank freely, became intoxicated, and quarreled, and the wrangling culminated with the attempt of the defendant, as alleged, to kill Evans. The jury found the defendant guilty of the misdemeanor of unlawfully cutting. Sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

James Dunn was tried for malicious mischief in tearing the sheet iron plate from the door of No. 388 Penn street, the place of business and residence of William Nelsbaum. The plate was taken from the door by one William Smith, (also indicted,) the defendant being in his company, and remarking "pull it off," or "let it rip." The jury had not agreed upon a verdict at adjournment.

The Nevin Potatoe Planter—Great Agricultural Implement.

Our agricultural friends are referred to the advertisement in another column of the greatest of late inventions, "Nevin's Patent Potatoe Planter, Hoe and Digger." We paid a visit yesterday to the establishment of Messrs. Willis Boothe and Fred. Dickinson, No. 85 Liberty street, and were afforded an opportunity of closely examining one of these famous implements.

It is simple in construction, easy to handle, and accomplishes all the work it is intended to do in good style, saving the labor of eight or ten men. The potatoe hopper is located on the forward part of the implement, and by an ingenious arrangement the vegetable is planted in any given shape or size, the interior being supplied with a patent spring comb which is easily regulated. After a field has been sufficiently cultivated, the farmer places the cut potatoes in the hopper and drives the horse attached to the implement across his field. The forward plowshare digs up the earth, the seed drops, and two shares on either wing of the implement, cover and throw up perfect ridges, and the planting is finished. Everywhere the implement has been tried it has received the highest award of superiority. It is so constructed that corn, beans or peas can be planted in just the same manner. By simply taking apart it is converted into a cultivator of a very superior style, being light and graceful. But we cannot fully explain all the superior merits of this wonderful agricultural implement, which combines in itself a corn and potatoe planter, a hoe, digger and cultivator. It must be seen to be appreciated.

As a digger this implement has no rival in the world. One man can with ease dig with it, over one thousand bushels of potatoes in a single day. No farmer should for an instant be without one. They save labor, perform their work in the best manner imaginable, and are cheaper than anything of the kind in the market. Messrs. Boothe & Dickinson are the agents for the great majority of the counties of this State. A few county rights will be disposed of at moderate prices. The machine will be exhibited to all who may call.

An Ancient Superstition.

The great advantage which Egypt derived from the annual inundation of the Nile in saving the country from total barrenness, causes us to feel little at the inhabitants still calling it the holy river. The inundation usually commences on the 15th of June, (to-morrow.) The greatest heighth is at autumnal equinox, and the waters slowly subside until the following April. In former days if the Nile did not give evidence of rising on the 15th, the most beautiful young lady that could be found was richly dressed and drowned in the waters as a victim to turn away the wrath of the gods and merit their favors. This barbarous practice has been done away with, however, and a more ridiculous practice substituted. The Caliphs prepare a letter, in which is written, "Rise, O Nile, if God wills it," and casts it into the water. The historian fails to tell us whether the letter has the desired effect or not. A fertile imagination fills up the vacuum, perhaps, and "makes that appear that is not really so."

If the casting of a letter on the bosom of our rivers would cause their current to swell, we are of the opinion that our friends down the Ohio would have cause to believe the entire Postoffice Department afloat.

An Outrageous Act.—Mrs. Eliza Dunn appeared before Mayor McCarthy, yesterday, and lodged an information against Thomas Graham for spitting in her face, on Fourth street, in the presence of a number of people. Thomas—who it seems has an old grudge against the lady—was arrested and fined $25 for his fun.

Graham's act is monstrous and will admit of no palliation, and in the heavy fine imposed he received no more than was deserving.

Would not Prosecute.—Mary Devlin yesterday appeared before Alderman Humbert and made information against a colored woman named Nancy Potts for assault and battery. A warrant was issued and Nancy arrested, but strange to say Mary refused to prosecute, saying that she would not be seen in Court with a darkey. Nancy, who seemed to relish the situation hugely, was allowed to depart in peace.

Close Driving.—We have noticed that on many of our streets drays, express wagons and other vehicles going the same way drive too close together. We have in several instances seen ladies and children wait some time at the street crossings for a caravan of vehicles to pass before they could venture across. Why not enforce the ordinance, Messrs. Policemen?

Paid a Visit.—The venerable Judge Shaler, now so greatly enfeebled by age, as to be unable to go about without assistance, paid a visit to the court house yesterday, and was warmly greeted by the officials and others. The old gentleman's sands of life have almost run out.

Meet To-night.—The Allegheny Councils will hold their regular monthly meeting to-night, the time having been changed from the first to the second Thursday of each month.

The Case of Jeff. Davis.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEEDS GOVERNMENT RELIEF.

The Constitutional Amendment.

AMENDMENT TO THE NATIONAL BANK ACT.

Light House Destroyed by a Tornado.

CLOSE OF THE PRESENT SESSION.

Fraudulent Representations of Claim Agents.

THE NEW FIVE CENT COIN.

New York, June 13.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Charles O'Connor states that the President will give him an answer to-morrow upon the question of turning over Jeff. Davis to Judge Underwood's Court. He seems perfectly confident of final success. There is a rumor, however, that no action in the matter will be taken by the President, but that the question will be postponed.

The morning papers have the following special from Washington: The Postmaster General positively refuses to increase the pay of New England railroads for carrying the mails, inasmuch as he considers they are now paying all the service will warrant, while such enormous sums are lost in carrying the mails over the South.

An assistant of the Freedmen's Bureau, in making a tour through South Carolina, reports the supply of labor inadequate to the demand, but where subsistence is not wanting labor will be quite as productive this season as others when capital owned labor. In parts of the Chesterfield District the supply of provisions is nearly exhausted, and great suffering will come upon all classes unless speedily relieved by the Government. It is estimated that ninety thousand bushels of corn and one hundred thousand pounds of bacon, provisions for three months, in addition to that now in the hands of planters, will be required to supply the necessary laborers till the harvesting of crops. These supplies the planters have neither the cash nor the credit to purchase, and unless relief comes from the Government, many of the plantations will be abandoned by the freedmen, who will go in search of employment where they can get sufficient food.

A canvass of the House made to-day, and counting some members expected to arrive to-morrow morning, it is estimated that the Constitutional Amendments will pass by about 117 or 126, or nearly five to one.

The House Committee on Banking to-day agreed to report an amendment to the National Bank act to prevent any bank having over $1,000,000 circulation, and to reduce to eighty per cent. the circulation of all banks with over $500,000 capital.

The Senate Finance Committee are considering a proposition to allow State banks one year more to wind up or convert their charters into National banks. Under the present law, those which are not wound up by July are liable to a tax of ten per cent.

Information has been received at the office of the Light House Board that the light house at Bay Point, Port Royal Harbor, was entirely destroyed by a tornado which visited that vicinity on the 29th ult.

At an informal meeting of Senators to-day, it was decided to close the present session of Congress early in July.

The following appropriations have been made for the continuation of harbor and river improvements: New York, $388,599; Ohio, $456,996; Illinois, $86,604; Indiana, $75,000; Oregon, $15,000. There is also a general appropriation for the improvement of the Western rivers, amounting to $1,525,000.

Various claim agents and others, from Boston, Cincinnati, Nashville and Louisville, have for the past few weeks flooded the country with circulars, advising officers of the late war that they are entitled to five hundred dollars extra pay as commutation and allowance for servants, between May 1st, 1864, and March 3d, 1865. We are authorized by the Paymaster General and by the Second Comptroller, to say that the law allows no such extra pay, and that all such representations are fraudulent, and intended to deceive the public.

The passage of the Niagara Ship Canal bill in the Senate is likely to be with Mr. Morgan's amendment, requiring the sanction of the State of New York.

The Treasury Department has received a copy of a circular that has been generally distributed throughout the country by an establishment in New York, in which they state that for fifty dollars in currency they will procure for parties fifty-five dollars in the new five cent coin. This is a transparent swindle.

It has already been announced that as soon as the coin is ready for distribution, quantities in fifty dollar packages may be obtained by addressing the officers of the mint in Philadelphia.

The Fenian Arms and Ammunition Seized by the United States—P. O'Day Claims the Arms as His Private Property—Subscription to Destitute Fenians.

Buffalo, June 13.—P. O'Day, Head Centre of Buffalo, has returned here from New York, and has applied to General Barry for the return of arms and munitions of war seized here. O'Day claimed the arms as his private property, and said he had made advances on them as an auctioneer and commission merchant. General Barry replied he was only custodian of the arms, and had seized them by order of his superior officer.

The Board of Trade yesterday subscribed five hundred dollars to furnish supplies or transportation to destitute Fenians. Only about one hundred and sixty Fenians have accepted transportation under Gen. Barry's order up to this time.

The Freedmen's Bureau—Its Operations in South Carolina and Florida.

New York, June 13.—Generals Steedman and Fullerton have submitted their report of the operations of the Freedmen's Bureau in the military departments of South Carolina and Florida. They highly commend General Scott, the Assistant Commissioner in South Carolina, for the wise policy that pervades his system of governing and treating the freedmen. They recommend the discontinuance of the employment of citizens in the Bureau, and cite several cases of the evil of agents being interested in the working of plantations. They finally recommend that the Sea Island lands, given to the negroes by Gen. Sherman's order, be returned to their owners, provided they pay the freedmen for all the improvements they have made while in possession of the property.

The War in South America.

New York, June 13.—Despatches from Rio Janeiro, May 8th, state that the Paraguayans had evacuated their intrenched camp on the road to Humaita. The allied fleet was on its way up the Paraguay to invest Fort Humaita, and General Alegry's troops had reached Condelaria on the upper Parana, on their way to invest the fort on the land side. A desperate and decisive battle was expected.

Professor Agassiz, with his wife, had arrived from the valley of the Amazon, and at a lecture given by him in Rio Janeiro, the imperial family were in attendance.

Address of Col. Roberts.

New York, June 13.—Col. Roberts has issued an address to the Fenians to stand firm, for their movement must and shall advance. His determination remains unchanged.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, June 13, 1866.

There is a continued brisk demand for money, and the market is about as stringent as ever. No. 1 paper is quoted at 9 per cent per annum, while anything that is considered doubtful in the least, has to pay one per cent. a month. In consequence of the high rate of interest on business paper, mortgages are being offered pretty freely together with 9@10 per cent, and as the extra interest is paid in advance, 12 per cent is really paid for the use of the money.

Gold is firm and a fraction higher, being quoted in New York at 143¾@144. Government bonds weak and a fraction lower; 1881's, 110; 5-20's, 102¾; 10-40's, 96; 7-30's, 102¾@102½. Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 82¾; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 97¾; Erie, 62⅝. The scarcity of money, and the general desire to make new investments is having a tendency to throw large amounts of governments on the market, and, besides, there is a clique in New York who are doing all in their power to depress these securities and run up the premium on gold.

The Allegheny Evening Times, of to-day, says: "We understand that a heavy manufacturing firm, of this city, has failed for a considerable amount, and that the establishment is in the hands of the sheriff."

The following sales of stocks were made at McIlwain's auction sale on Tuesday evening:

M. & M. National Bank	$64 50
Allegheny National Bank	58 75
Bank of Pittsburgh	66 00

—A Washington dispatch says:

It is believed that no serious effort will be made to induce Congress to pass the five per cent funding bill introduced in the Senate by Mr. Sherman. The Secretary of the Treasury is willing to be left till the next session to the resources afforded by existing laws; and even if the five per cent scheme were to become a law, it is doubtful if he would take any action under it, because of the present condition of the money market and the uncertainty of affairs in Europe.

—The New York Tribune, of Tuesday, says:

The five per cent funding scheme seems to have passed entirely out of sight under the European complications, which killed off the small vitality the bill had when first born. A long six per cent bond could no doubt be exchanged at a small premium for about all the compound notes, the tempory loans, and a good many millions of plain legal tenders; and Mr. McCulloch should get to work in this direction under existing laws, or new ones if necessary. If he will offer proper terms for the capital seeking short employment, he can soon put the affairs of the Treasury in order, and at the same time force the now excessive circulation of the National Banks home. It is argued against the policy of making them redeem, that it would force them by scores into liquidation, and flood the market with bonds held as security for their circulation. This is no objection, but a good reason why the currency should be brought back to soundness. If the Government could by compulsory redemption wind up the banks of circulation, and substitute for their irredeemable promises plain legal tenders, and at the same time cancel an equal amount of gold bearing stocks held as security, it would be a service to the people by giving a superior currency, and to the nation by saving interest upon its debt. The gold interest paid the National Banks upon bonds held as security for notes, is a gratuity the Treasury can ill afford and should now be stopped. The National Bank notes are not as good as legal tender, and are a greater damage to the business of the country than the circulating Treasury notes, into which they should now be exchanged, to save taxation, and for the protection of bill-holders. This policy of depriving the National Banks of their now excessive power to issue circulation, practically irredeemable, is a serious matter, and would bring to grief an army of speculators and traders upon borrowed money but it would be for the benefit of the people at large, and a long step toward specie payments.

—We not long stated our belief (says the Detroit Post) that the stocks of the old Express Companies would reach 25 per cent. premium before the first day of August. Recent sales in New York confirm us in this opinion. American sold last week at 113½ to 114, Adams at 118 to 120, and United States at 113½. The reason assigned for the greater advance in the Adams Company is the fact recently announced that the Government has made a very liberal contract with that company to carry all the coin, Treasury notes and stamps for the various departments, and that the prospective profit on this contract has called forth buyers of the stock. If such be the case, the other two companies should have a like advance, as the Adams Company must "pro rata" with the United States and the American in carrying these treasures over their routes. When this fact is understood by buyers of express stocks, we may look for an advance of 4 to 6 per cent on the present price of American and United States—especially when it is considered that these companies are doing an unusually successful business.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Money market remains easy at 4@5 per cent. on call. Sterling Exchange is firm at 109¾@109⅞ for bankers' sixty day bills.

The Persia to-day took out about as many American securities as the Scotia brought back, the advance in Gold preventing the sale of them on this side. There were some additions to shipments of specie this afternoon, and the total for the day was about $3,900,000.

The Gold market has been very active this afternoon. The price was run up to 146¾, and afterwards fell back to 145⅝@146. There is a disposition in the Gold Room to discount the continued drain of gold from this side, but the advance has been engineered by a strong Bull clique.

The market for Petroleum and Mining Shares was generally steady. At the afternoon board United States took a further upward turn, and sold at 7. After call Bonnehoff Run Oil and Petroleum were both weak and lower. Consolidated Gregory was in demand during the session, and sold up to 14,25. Downieville and Gunnell were higher.

The Post's money article says the loan market is unchanged, except that rates are rather in favor of the borrower; 5 per cent. is the prevailing rate, with exceptional transactions at 4 o'clock. The stock market is dull but steady.

Governments are firm; railroad shares are better, except Erie, which is depressed by the bears.

At the 1 o'clock call, New York Central was very strong at 98. Erie closed at 61½; Hudson, 108; Reading, 106¾; Michigan Southern, 79; Pittsburgh, 81½; Rock Island, 91¼; Fort Wayne and Chicago, 97⅝; Northwestern, 29¾, do. preferred, 59¼. Later—Erie sold at 61¾.

Government securities were quiet and steady this afternoon. The following were the closing prices: Coupons 1881, 110; Coupons 1864, 102¼@102⅜; Coupons 96½@96¾ July; 7-30's 102¼@102⅜.

The Railway speculation was firmer at the second board on New York Central, but dull and weak on the balance of the list. At the last board the market was generally steady and New York Central continued to advance.

State Bonds were higher at the close of the day on Tennessee and North Carolin Sixes. The Miscellaneous list has been quite active in some respects to-day. Western Union Telegraph has fluctuated between 56@58½, and finally closed at 56¼.

Closing prices of Stocks:—Spruce Hill, 4; Quicksilver, 51; Mariposa, 24; Western Union Telegraph, 56½; New York Central, 98⅝; Erie, 61⅝; Reading, 106⅝; Michigan Southern, 79⅜; Illinois Central, 122; Pittsburgh, 81⅞; Rock Island, 91¼; Northwestern, 29⅝; do. preferred 59¾; Fort Wayne, 97¾. Gold closed at 145¾.

The actual shipments of gold to Europe today were $3,749,741. Stocks dull; 5-20's, 1862, 102¾ do 65, 102⅜. Treasury, 2nd series 102⅜; do 3rd 102¼. Tennessee 6's 95¼. North Carolina 83; Quicksilver 51, Mariposa preferred 23¾. Western Union telegraph 57½. New York Central 98⅝. Erie 61⅝. Reading 109¾. Illinois Central 121. Cleveland and Pittsburgh 82 North Western 29⅝. do preferred 59⅝. Rhode Island 91⅝. Gold advanced to 146⅜ and closed 145¾.

Butter in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 12.—The butter market is very weak, and the indications are strong for a heavy downward movement. Within the past few days several Eastern buyers have been looking around, but are not willing to take hold at anything like the present asking prices. The market has completely broken down in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Chicago, and other cities. Advices from New York today quote the best Orange County at 40c. We can give no quotations, but it is evident from the present feeling of buyers that prices must recede materially before there will be anything of importance done. There is now no shipping margin to the Eastern markets.—Herald.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Brown Sheetings—Atlanta, 22½; Amoskeag A, 24; Appleton A, 24; Atlantic A, 24; do. D, 21; do. E, 21; do. G, 18; do. H, 24; do. V, 19; Augusta, 19; do., 16; Cohasset, 24; Indian Head, 23; Massachusetts, 28; Medford, 21½; Nashua Extra, 20, Stark A, 23; do. M, 21; do. O, 19. Prints—No change.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The fresh receipts of beef Cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 66 cars. Entered sales, 168 head, at prices ranging from $4,80@5,50 for common cows; $6,20@6,37½ for butchers stock, and from $7,12½@7,72½ for fair to good steers. The market is dull and inactive, the weather hot and uncomfortable, and buyers do not seem disposed to take hold of the quality of stock in the yards. What they might do with a supply of good shipping stock is another thing.

Potatoes in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—The receipts early in the week were hardly equal to the requirements, and prices advanced to $3,65@4,25 per bbl for the best descriptions from store. The receipts for a day or two past have been more liberal, and the advance was lost. We quote the best descriptions at $3,50@3,60 on arrival, and $3,75@4,25 from store.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, June 13.—Flour firm and in fair demand. Wheat—No. 1 Milwaukee $2,05. Corn 88c. Oats held at 47c; No. 1 Chicago without takers; Wisconsin 48c. Barley and Peas nominal. Rye in light demand, at about 88c for Chicago. Pork $32,50. Lard 23c. Whisky scarce and held at $2,27.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, June 13, 1866. }

There has been no new characteristics in the produce markets to-day worthy of special notice. The demand for most of the leading articles seems to be falling off somewhat, while prices are nominally unchanged.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet but firm and the supply in this market is meagre; sale of 1 car Spring at $2,20. Oats quiet and unchanged; sale of 1 car Chicago, in elevator, at 54; and 300 bush do, in elevator, at 56. Corn is dull, the supply being considerably in excess of the demand. Sales of shelled in elevator, at 80; and from store at 85 to 90. Rye may be quoted at 90 to 95 for Western, and $1 for prime Penna. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—Is steady, with a fair local demand but unchanged. Regular sales from store at $10,50 to $11,00 for Spring Wheat; $11½@11¾ for half Spring and half Winter; and $12½@13 for all Winter. Rye Flour is quoted firm at $6,75.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is very firm, though there is no material improvement in the demand. We continue to quote at 15 for Shoulders; 17½ for Ribbed Sides, and 24 for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quoted at 22½ for steamed, and 23 for kettle rendered. Mess Pork is selling in a small way at $32,50@33.

POTATOES—Market firmer in consequence of light arrivals, but there is no improvement in the demand and prices remain unchanged, at $1,15 to $1,20 per bush, and $3,25@3,50 per bbl.

EGGS—Demand fair and market steady but quiet at 22@23.

CHEESE—Sales of Western Reserve at 16@17; Hamburgh at 17@18, and Ohio Factory and Goshen at 20@22. Receipts of Western Reserve continue large.

BUTTER—Continues very dull and neglected, the oppressively hot weather restricting the demand very much. We continue to quote nominally at 20 to 24 for good to prime Roll.

BEANS—Prime clean White Beans are in demand, and sell readily at $2, while common are dull at $1,25@1,50 per bush.

HAY—Sale at scales to-day of 10 loads at $24 to $28 per ton.

OIL—No 1 Lard Oil is selling in a regular way at $1,83@1,85 per gallon.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in good demand, and sells readily on arrival at $2,65. No demand whatever for Clover or Timothy Seeds.

SORGHUM—Is dull but unchanged; sales at 40 to 45 for common, and 55 to 60 for prime.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, June 13, 1866 }

CRUDE—There is no improvement to note in the general tone of the trade, in fact, the indications at present for such an event are by no means encouraging. The demand for Crude continues rather light, and while the market is regarded as being dull and weak, prices still hold up to the contrary notwithstanding. We can report sales in lots of thirty six hundred barrels, all in bulk, and all at 13½; 1000 bbls, packages included, at 18, free on board cars, and 300 bbls (dirty oil) at 18, packages included. The advices from the east continue of a discouraging character, owing to the unfavorable reports from abroad, while we have no late intelligence from the wells.

REFINED—The demand for bonded oil continues very light, and the market is dull and weak with a drooping tendency. On the spot here, 33½ cents may be regarded as a fair quotation, while for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, 40 cents is the best figure that can be obtained. We can report a sale of 500 bbls, for June delivery in Philadelphia, sellers option, at 40. For July delivery in Philadelphia, buyers are offering 41 to 41½, but thus far, holders seem unwilling to accept these figures, preferring rather to hold on and run the chances of the market. Sales yesterday for September at 39, free on board cars here; and it is rumored that there were some sales for October at 46, delivered in Philadelphia. No movement in free oil.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals were comparatively light to-day, owing mainly to high winds which compelled oil boats to tie up. Some of the arrivals noted below reached here yesterday, but we were unable to get them until to-day.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with but little over five feet in the channel by the pier marks last evening. Telegrams from Oil City report heavy rains on Tuesday night, and while the Allegheny was falling, with three feet in the channel at that point yesterday, strong hopes of another rise in this stream are entertained. The weather continues oppressively hot, with indications of rain.

Some of the tow boats that left here during Monday and Tuesday experienced a pretty rough time of it. The Painter No. 2, struck two barges on White, sunk one on Glass House, and then gave up her trip. Leader and Reindeer stuck their tows on Glass House, and have returned to their old moorings. Venture was delayed some time at White's Ripple, as was also the Veteran, but both succeeded in getting off, and passed on down. The Stella stuck at the foot of Logstown for some time, but got off. From the above, it will be seen that the Painter, Leader and Reindeer, have been compelled to abandon their trips, while the rest, so far as we have been able to learn, will doubtless get through.

Capt. Muirine, who came up as one of the pilots on the Leonora, which boat arrived about noon yesterday, reports having met the Fearless at the "Sisters;" John S. Cosgrave at Pike Island; Sam Roberts at the foot of Peach Bottom Bar; Coal Valley at Coxe's Ripple; two boats, names unknown, at Brown's Island. Boat laid up at Wellsville; Tom Farrow at Logstown. Found two barges aground at White's Ripple; two do in Glass House, and one sunk. Capt. M. also reports the Lorena aground at Glass House, but as she has a barge on which she can light, the chances for getting off may be considered favorable.

The Leonora No. 2 arrived from Cincinnati yesterday about noon, and later in the day, the Citizen got in from St. Louis. The Citizen would have arrived sooner had not the channel been obstructed at different points below by tow boats and barges.

The New State is loading at Cincinnati for Pittsburgh, and the Armadillo is on route from St. Louis to this point.

The Peerless left for Oil City last evening, with a very fair trip, including quite a number of passengers, and the Echo is due here from Oil City to-day.

The Fayette, Capt. Cox, and the Chieftain, Capt. Abrams, both No. 1 steamers, notwithstanding they belong to competing lines, leave for Brownsville and Geneva this evening, leaving promptly at 5 o'clock.

The Nora, Capt. Devinney, and the Kate Putnam, Capt. J. H. Lightner, are both announced for Cincinnati and Louisville, and the Nora may possibly get off this evening.

The Leonidas, Capt. Frank Marratta is up for St. Louis, and the R. C. Gray, Capt. Wm. B. Anderson, is announced for St. Louis and St. Paul.

The new steamer Pine Bluff, Capt. Taylor, is announced for Arkansas River, and all intermediate points, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday:

Capt. Chas. Harton, of the Madison, arrived from New Orleans yesterday. He left his packet at New Orleans, laid up.

Captain Lew H. Morris takes charge of the river department of the Cincinnati Daily Union to-day. In addition to a knowledge of steamboating, Capt. Morris also knows how to dish up a good item. We expect to peruse some rich and racy marine items in the Union as soon as the Captain's machinery is worn smooth in his new profession.

The St. Louis Republican, of Monday, says:

An attempt was made yesterday morning to destroy the magnificent steamer Magnolia, as she was lying at the lower landing. A fire was discovered in the carpenter shop, on the "after guard." Fortunately it was discovered before it had gotten under fair headway, and extinguished with a few buckets of water. The fire was no doubt the work of some evil disposed person. We understand that a similar attempt was made on Friday afternoon.

The various packet companies received through the mail Saturday morning an anonymous letter notifying them that if they did not cease employing negroes as laborers, their boats would be destroyed. We understand that a clue has been found as to the writer of these letters.

POSTPONEMENT.

THE UNITED STATES
PRIZE CONCERT,
TO HAVE BEEN GIVEN AT
Crosby's Opera House, Chicago,
MAY 28th, 1866,
Will be postponed until
Monday, July 9th, '66,
On which occasion
HALF A MILLION DOLLARS IN PRIZES
Will be presented to Ticket Holders, including
$100,000 IN GREENBACKS.

The postponement is an unavoidable necessity, (not so much in consequence of the number of tickets yet unsold) as the positive necessity there is for the proper registration of those already disposed of, which has been delayed in consequence of the negligence and carelessness of a portion of our Agents in making their proper returns.

We advise all parties wanting tickets to send for them without delay, as we have but a limited number yet on hand. We wish most particularly to impress upon the minds of our Agents the importance of their making their returns at once, and of rectifying whatever errors may have crept into their reports heretofore. We will say to those sending for tickets, that if they should all be sold at the time their order is received, the money will be returned.

No applications for new agencies for the sale of tickets will be considered, as we have no more than sufficient tickets to supply those Agents we have already appointed. Tickets are for sale at the principal hotels, book and music stores in the city, and at our office, 133 Dearborn street; price $1.00 each; sent by mail on receipt of price and stamp for return postage.

We invite the particular attention of persons wishing to order tickets by mail to the following
